Not Supporting Stephens

Friends of William P. Warner, the republican nominee for congress, will read the following from the Tekamah Journal with interest:

"The Journal man the other day learned an interesting political fact, and that was that the revolt against Congressman Dan Stephens is more pronounced than is the opposition to the re-election of President Wilson in this congressional district. Men who are strong democrats and who expect to work and vote for President Wilson's continuation in office are open in their antagonism to Congressman Stephens. They give as their reason that as a democrat he is trying to be all things to all people; that he seeks republican rather than democratic support; that he knows no such thing as political gratitude and because he is a democrat he feels democrats should support him no matter what may have been his action in congress and out of congress. This does not set very well and in every county in the district there is that class of democrats who feel that his usefulness to their party is at an end. This opposition alone spells defeat for him in November. Mr. Stephens himself will not deny the facts stated herein. He would like to but he cannot, for he knows they are true."

Nebraska is going to be one of the political battle grounds from now till November 7th, and all signs point to a sweeping majority for Hughes and the whole state ticket. The democrats are going to bring some of their greatest orators into this state to explain, or try to explain to the voters, why the present democratic congress has appropriated many more millions of dollars in this session than any other congress in the history of the country. It will be interesting to have this explained, but we doubt whether or not their explanations will be any more effective than they were in Maine a few weeks ago.

A. M. Chambers, of Walthill, Nebr., republican candidate for representative for this district, was in town Thursday calling on friends. Mr. Chambers, in soliciting the support of the voters of this district, frankly invites their attention to his record in the last legislature, during the winter of 1915, which has been approved by both republicans and democrats who followed closely the record of the session. By occupation he is a farmer who actually farms, a pioneer of Thurston county who keeps well posted on living questions. Always consistently republican, he is not offensively partisan, and he enters no entangling alliances. He believes that a lawmaker should be governed by the wishes of the people and what is best for the welfare of all.

The new desks have been installed in the high school room and work is carried on much more comfortably to those who were setting on chairs.

Friday has been decided upon as the most convenient day for the fair. It is one of the best days of the fair and will interfere less with school work than any other day of the week. School will be dismissed in all rooms.

THE NATION IS SHOCKINGLY UNPREPARED.

It is apparent that we are shockingly unprepared. There is no room for controversy on this point since the object lesson on the Mexican border. All our available regular troops (less, I believe, than 40,000) are there or in Mexico, and as these have been deemed insufficient the entire National Guard has been ordered out; that is, we are summoning practically all our movable military forces in order to present bandit incursions. In view of the warnings of the past three years, it is inexcusable that we should find ourselves in this plight. For our faithful guardsmen, who with a fine patriotism responded to this call and are bearing this burden, I have nothing but praise. But I think it little short of absurd that we should be compelled to call men from their shops, their factories, their offices and their professions for such a purpose. This, however, is not all. The units of the National Guard were at peace strength, which was only about one-half the required strength. It was necessary to bring in recruits, for the most part raw and untrained. Only a small percentage of the regiments recruited up to war strength will have had even a year's training in the National Guard, which at the maximum means one hundred hours of military drill, and, on the average, means much less. Men fresh from their peaceful employments and physically unprepared have been hurried to the border for actual service. They were without proper equipment; without necessary supplies; suitable conditions of transportation were not provided. Men with dependent families were sent; and conditions which should have been well known were discovered after the event. And yet the exigency, comparatively speaking, was not a very grave one. It involved nothing that could not readily have been foreseen during the past three years of disturbance, and required only a modest talent for organization. That this Administration while pursuing its course in Mexico should have permitted such conditions to exist is almost incredible.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.
